

LES VIBRANTS DÉFRICHEURS

THINK BIG – Creation 2021

Think Big is an unprecedented quartet which has the air of a libertarian manifesto. A ground of experimentation furiously alive. The double bass player Thibault Cellier and the saxophonist Raphaël Quenehen got to know each other for 18 years within the collective of artists “Les Vibrants Défricheurs” and the band “Papanosh”. Along with them, Mike Reed, drummer and composer, hyper-activist on the Chicago’s scene and member of the AACM plus Ben Lamar Gay, his long-time partner, trumpeter and multi-instrumentalist coming from the same galaxy.

Ben LaMar Gay, trumpet

Ben LaMar Gay is a composer and cornetist who moves sound, color, and space through folkloric filters to produce electro-acoustic collages. A Chicago native, Ben's true technique is giving life to an idea while exploring and expanding on the term "Americana." By being active in Chicago's experimental music scene and having spent a three-year residency in Brazil, Ben collaborated with several influential figures in the world of music, including Joshua Abrams, the Association of the Advancement of Creative Musicians, Bixiga 70, Black Monks of Mississippi, Celso Fonseca, George Lewis, Nicole Mitchell, Jeff Parker, Theo Parrish, Mike Reed, Tomeka Reid, and ItibereZwarg. He received artist residencies from Edgar Miller Legacy Glasner Studios and the Red Bull Music Academy. His range of performances and creative projects span from his hometown in Chicago's very own Symphony Center and across the globe to places such as Brazil, France, Germany, Italy, Nigeria, Poland, and the Netherlands. Embracing global vision while remaining true to his roots, Ben aligns his creative output with the honest notion that he only knows how to be a man from the South Side of Chicago.
